THE CRAZE FOR CRAZINESS

It is not news that much is being said about Syntonics by those with "axes to grind". Keep in mind that Syntonics is NOT color therapy. Never was and never will be. Any and all statements to the contrary are the "bunk".

When you see or hear statements which are cleverly designed to mislead you and other optometrists, it is suggested that you re-read 'NOW READ THE FACTS' by Dr. Sterzer in a former Syntonogram and sent to all Syntonists of record.

Syntonics is JUST what its name implies, the integration of the nervous system to the end that proper physiologic ocular function may accrue. The physiological principle involved is not the same, nor can it ever be the same, as that used in other methods of orthoptic training. You Syntonists know these things, but other optometrists may not. See that they too have the facts.

Geometric orthoptics is one thing. Syntonic orthoptics is something entirely different. They mix like gunpowder and lighted cigarettes.
