RILEY HAS A WORD

Great Guns and little fishes. I ran into a good one. A prospective patient told me that she wanted some Optometric service. I took the history and learned the name of the Optometrist to whom she had been going. She said he gave her "Tunnel treatment". She described it. "Well. I looked into a tunnel he had in the office". Hanged if I could understand what had been done. Then, about ten minutes later she said "Why Dr. Spitler, I see you have one, too, " and she pointed to, you guessed it,

MY SYNTONIZER.

Ye Gods, this chap "knocks Syntonics" all over the place, yet he uses it, got a Syntonizer second hand, and renamed it "Tunnel Treatment". He has never taken the basic. Wants nothing to do with Syntonics, he says.

Except of course the Results.

Yours,

Riley
